Step 3: Click Download Twitter.Step 4: Select the download button, and select which version you want to save the video to your phone. There There many reasons you might want to download a video. You may want to watch it later when you have more time or share it with others in your household when they come home. Perhaps we should refer to this for research. Whatever the reason, it's helpful to learn how to download a video from just about any website for free. The following steps can help you navigate the download process when using a web laptop. First, open your browser. Then visit sites like YouTube, Clipfish or Dailymotion, websites that are famous for hosting a lot of video content. Take the time to watch some videos. Select one you want to transfer to your computer or laptop. The type of video you select is irrelevant. Maybe it's a cooking tutorial, a vintage cartoon or a music video. You will then need to select the URL of the selected video. Normally, you can click the address bar and your address will be selected or highlighted. If this click didn't select the title text, you might need to use your mouse to highlight the entire title. You can also click the address bar and try clicking again. You may have clicked twice for the first time, which would have prevented the selection. The reason you selected or highlighted the URL in the selected video in the last step is that you need to copy the address in this step. Tagging allows you to do it. You can copy the selected text by right-clicking the selection and selecting copy from the drop-down menu. If you're using Windows, you can make Control C to copy the selection using the keyboard. If you are using a Mac, you can hit Command C to copy the selection. You will then need to open the Convert2MP3 website. This website allows you to convert videos to different download formats. In other words, this is an online video downloader. Read the website's terms and conditions to ensure safe and legitimate downloading. The Convert2MP3 website is popular with many who download videos and want to do it reliably and efficiently. Now you're ready to click the video link text box. You'll find this on convert2MP3 under the insert video link URL. You want to press the select format button located in the middle of the page. It's a big step, so make sure you hit the right box! Remember when you selected the title of the video and copied it? This address is waiting to be pasted. In this step, you will paste the video title into the displayed text box. You can use your mouse to right-click paste from the drop-down menu. You should then paste your address into the text box. You can also use the keyboard to hit control V if you're using Windows or hit the V command if you're using a Mac. Now you are ready to find and click the MP3 Box. MP3 is a compressed file that will contain your video. If you tried to download a 30-megabyte video to your computer, it could take hours. If in the MP3 form, you can effectively download the video in moments. For the video, click the MP3 box. When the drop-down menu appears, select MP4. This file is perfect for your video content. After you select an MP4 file, you can select quality from the drop-down menu that appears next to the MP4 quality tags. Remember that you cannot select a quality that is higher than the actual video quality. Properties such as 360p, 480p, 720p or 1080p are common choices. If you share something with social networks, you might want to choose 1080p. Now you are ready to click the convert button. This action will create an MP4 transfer link from the selected video. If you receive an error message, or if the site tells you to choose another video, you can try it. If the same messages appear, routine maintenance is likely to be on the laptop's site. You can try to convert and download the original video later. Cheers! You have reached the final step in the conversion and download process. Click the button that says download. The button must be on the central side and be coloured green. You might be prompted to choose where you can download on your device, where you can send and save the video. When you click this button, the download will start in most cases. Don't forget to save newly downloaded content, but you'll need to take a different approach when it comes to saving videos. There are a number of reasons why you might want to download videos from Twitter and how you do it depends very much on whether you're using a desktop or mobile version of the service. If you're a twitter desktop user (that's someone who accesses a website using a web browser in Windows, macOS, or Linux), there are various online tools that can be used to download videos from Twitter.Many of these tools can also be used on iPhone and Android mobile devices, but a dedicated video download app can better serve you. Whatever platform you use, here's how you can go about downloading videos from Twitter.SaveTweetVid is an online video downloader that you can use to store videos, GIFs and audio files that you can find on Twitter. To download the video that is included in the tweet, you'll need to know the URL of the tweet in question. It's possible that you watched videos on your Twitter timeline without clicking on the actual tweet, and you can access it by clicking the text of the tweet or clicking its timestamp. This occurs above the tweet, user name of the user who shared the video — shows how long ago it took was published so that you could say anything from one minute to several days. Use an open-plan tv to mark its URL in the address bar of your web browser, right-click and select Copy, or press Ctrl+C at the same time. This is over, go to the SaveTweetVid site and paste the URL into the enter Twitter URL box. In this box, you can right-click and select Paste, or you can right-click and press Ctrl+V at the same time. Videos from Twitter can be downloaded in various resolutions, including 720p, 480p and 320p. Click the Download button next to the version you're interested in, and the video will start playing. In the lower-right corner of the video window, click the three points button, and then click Download from the menu that appears. Select the name and storage location for the video and the Save hit. That's all there is. You'll notice that the SaveTweetVid page, which lists different versions of the video you can download, also has a QR code — the type of barcode that your smartphone reads. This gives you a quick and easy way to download the current video to your phone by simply scanning the QR code, but if you want to download videos from Twitter to your phone regularly, there is a neater solution.iOSIOS users can contact the File Viewer Documents by Readdle to download videos from Twitter. Open the Twitter app with the free app installed, and the video you're interested in, and click the share button (up arrow) below the tweet. Tap Share tweet through, and then tap Copy link. Now switch to Documents by Readdle and click the compression icon to the lower right to start the integrated browser. Visit Twitter Video Downloader Online and paste the URL you previously copied. You'll then be able to choose the quality you want to upload the video by. AndroidThings are slightly easier for Android users thanks to the very appropriately named Download Twitter Videos app. If this app is installed, turn off Twitter and tap the Share icon before tapping Twitter. Now tap the download button and we'll ask you which version of the selected video you want to download. Just tap one you're interested in, and the video will be downloaded.
